In a Rush? Try RightFax and Case360

December 6, 2012

Well, RightFax can be configured to target all incoming faxes to be stored as PDF or TIF in specific drop folders. When a fax comes in, a PDF or TIF (depending on your choice) gets produced with an accompanying XML file. More

Fax Content: Fast and Easy Search and Retrieval

November 22, 2012

In Microsoft Exchange- and Outlook-connected RightFax environments, the majority of inbound faxes are routed as PDFs to a user's Outlook Account. Faxes routed as normal PDFs are basically fax images embedded in a PDF file, thus limiting the ways in which you can work with this information. There is no option to copy or search text while in the PDF. More

Fax over IP

Overview | Success Stories | Resources

A Complementary IP Communication Technology

Fax over IP (FoIP) is a software-based technology that compliments and leverages your existing Voice over IP (VoIP) network and eliminates the need for traditional fax boards. With FoIP, your organization can expect all the advantages, reliability, and security of a traditional fax server solution, but with added benefits, such as server consolidation through virtualization and a unified communications strategy that's inclusive of fax.

A Four Minute Introduction to FoIP

Want to learn more? Watch the FoIP Deep Dive Demo

This demo guides you through the world of Fax over IP (FoIP), offering an introduction to FoIP and the FoIP market, how fax devices talk to each other, and how Open Text Fax Server does FoIP.

View Demo

FoIP can help your organization by:

- Lowering hardware and energy costs through virtualization
- Reducing telephony costs
- Leveraging your existing VoIP network
- Fitting seamlessly into unified messaging and communication strategies, including SIP trunking

RightFax fax server software improves the flow of your company's vital information by automating business-critical fax and document distribution. Whether your organization is small, medium or large, the RightFax network fax server increases employee productivity and decreases paper-based operational costs.

Your business faces increasing pressure to improve employee and process productivity, and to reduce operational costs. OpenText RightFax meets these challenges by integrating and automating fax and document distribution with your existing business applications. This lets you reduce costs, increase employee productivity, and decrease risks associated with stand-alone fax machines and unsecure email communications.

RightFax, the market-leading network fax server solution, automates time-intensive manual paper-driven processes by integrating them into your business applications and systems. Learn how the benefits of RightFax save you time and money by redefining and modernizing fax and document distribution within your company.

Quickly impact your ROI by streamlining document workflow, reducing costs and increasing productivity.

Now more than ever your organization needs to:

- Lower costs
- Increase employee efficiency with fax to email and email to fax
- Integrate fax seamlessly from within business applications
- Send and receive faxes by integrating fax with your MFPs/MFDs
- Unify communications for voice, data and fax
- Prove compliance and improve audit-readiness

RightFax fax software has met these needs for 25 years. It continues to lead the market by integrating secure fax automation into email, front offices, back offices, the web, MFPs, and nearly any system or application.

RightFax Integrations

Seamless integration with your existing systems

RightFax integrates with a variety of software applications that help streamline document process workflows in healthcare, financial, legal and other industries. We also integrate with popular back office applications like Microsoft Exchange and Lotus Notes. We can integrate with almost any system, including CMS, ERP, MFP devices, and a variety of EMR/HIS software products.

These tightly coupled integrations extend the functionality of the software application, provide the benefit of unattended automation to the end users, and increase the overall value proposition. Below is a list of the most common RightFax integrations.

The most trusted and integrated digital fax and document management solutions in healthcare

Healthcare organizations face increasing demands from patients and healthcare providers for high quality care and the payers' need for cost control. These challenges are compounded by privacy concerns and heightened regulatory requirements. The same companies are feeling increasing pressure to digitize content, improve internal workflow processes, ensure regulatory compliance of electronic medical records (EMRs), and deliver information more quickly. These problems must be solved while reducing costs and safeguarding information security.

Providers

Communicate patient information quickly and securely while simplifying compliance and empowering you to focus on what matters most - enhancing patient care.

Payers

Accelerate claims processing, medical handling and other management activities by providing instantaneous information delivery via fax, email, certified email and encrypted PDF.

Suppliers

Automate the exchange of business information with customers and suppliers and improve response time while reducing document delivery costs.

Healthcare: Secure Information Exchange Report

A recent survey of healthcare providers allows OpenText to share the latest data regarding the state of patient privacy and secure records management against a backdrop of regulatory compliance. Read the full report from Healthcare IT News here.

Why Come to Us?

Expertise

We are the enterprise fax, FoIP and secure information exchange experts, period. Why attempt to DIY, if we are just a phone call away?

Experience

We deliver services efficiently, quickly and cost-effectively. We have the know-how and most importantly we do it right the first time. Because that's all we do.

Unparalleled Service

We are committed to services excellence—we stand by our product and our services. No project is too small (or too big).

Peace of Mind Services

No matter which OpenText Fax and Document Distribution products and systems you invest in, you can be assured we will implement them effectively and efficiently. Our consultants and engineers have an average of over 15 years of product and industry experience. We offer implementations for organizations of all sizes and complexities, tailored to your specific business needs. We have a flexible set of engagement models: from time and materials to fixed fee packages, from remote services to onsite installations.
